A New Album From

New Release!

Every living being, from honey bees to humans, needs a safe place to call home. Dana's new songs explore the different places animals make their habitats... in the sky and sea, in wetlands, underground tunnels and more. Featuring numerous musical genres ranging from rock to reggae, bluegrass to bossa nova, the album is designed to educate and engage young listeners while inspiring them to care about all the living creatures who share this precious planet we all call home.

"I am delighted to hear our recordings of humpback whale song...interwoven with Dana's musical composition. This brilliant album plants seeds of care for all life on Earth."
 — John Ryan, PhD, Biological Oceanographer
 Monterey Bay Aquarium Research Institute (MBARI)

"The album not only represents a variety of musical genres but it also naturally appeals to a child's love of animals. It is almost impossible to listen and not start singing along."
